-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Turri et al US 5,910,614 or Ohnuki et al US 5,292,585.

Turri et al teach liquid/liquid extraction of perfluoropolyethers using a alcohol solvent extraction step and a fluorinated solvent extraction step in the same manner as recited in the claims. See, for example, column 2 lines 24+ particularly lines 43-50. Ohnuki et al teach an analogous process. See, for example, column 1 lines 50-70, column 2 lines 23-63.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turri et al US 5,910,614 in view of Ohnuki et al US 5,292,585 and Curran Agnew. Chem. Int. Ed. Vol. 17.

Determination of the scope and content of the prior art (MPEP §2141.01)

Turri et al teach liquid/liquid extraction of perfluoropolyethers using a alcohol solvent extraction step and a fluorinated solvent extraction step in the same manner as recited in the claims. See, for example, column 2 lines 24+ particularly lines 43-50. Ohnuki et al teach an analogous process. See, for example, column 1 lines 50-70, column 2 lines 23-63. Curran teaches general considerations in the selection of parameters for these types of separations. See, for example, page 1178 left column, page 1183 right column and page 1184 left column.

Ascertainment of the difference between the prior art and the claims (MPEP §2141.02)

Turri et al and Ohnuki et al differ in specific products extracted. However, Curran teaches reasons to modify these types of separation processes to obtain the desired result.

Finding of prima facie obviousness--rational and motivation (MPEP §2142-2413)

In view of the art as a whole, the use of somewhat different but otherwise analogous starting materials in an otherwise known process would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art as the results, a purified product, would not have been unexpected.

No claim is allowed.
